Q: Node.js: Monitor all available NetBSD in our EC2 cloud environment. Each of them has multiple external IPs configured. Is there a way to monitor incoming packets to all these addresses? In other words, is there a way to have a running program which will monitor all incoming software? A: To start, you'll need to install netcat, and perhaps some other goodies. If you're looking to do packet capture on multiple IP addresses, you need to bind netcat's listening socket (netcat -1) to all those addresses. You could do that on startup with a one-liner that looks like this: sed -i -e's/netcat -1 [^0-9]*/netcat -1
