US authorities seized nearly $1 million of cocaine from a Texas warehouse, marking the third significant bust since President Trump was sworn into office. US Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) agents and the Department of Homeland Security's Customs and Border Protection division (CBP) executed a search warrant at the Houston warehouse on Monday, according to the Houston Chronicle. The bust was the third in the US since Trump's inauguration, as well as the first since the president was sworn in on 20 January. Last week, DEA agents and CBP agents seized more than $155,000 in cash, more than 3 kilograms (6.6 pounds) of cocaine, 2 kilograms (4.4 pounds) of methamphetamine, and more than 1,000 fentanyl pills from a Pennsylvania warehouse, NBC reported. Kevin Perkins, chief of the DEA Houston Division, said in a statement that the bust marked a "significant period of time" for the operation. "The Houston Division was able to seize nearly $1 million of cocaine that would have otherwise entered the United States as a result of the senseless violence in Mexico," he said. "This seizure and the activity our agents have led in recent months, underscore the tremendous importance of our work and the need for continued vigilance." Last month, Mexican officials arrested eight people in the state of Jalisco after a US Homeland Security investigation triggered an investigation into "an international drug trafficking operation." Since October 2016, CBP agents in the state of Tamaulipas have helped in the arrests of four men from Mexico who are accused of conspiracy to import cocaine into the US.

All About Life Posts for tag: healthful diet In an effort to remain flexible and avoid getting stuck in a routine, I'm eliminating the coffee and sugar I'm used to having each day. Instead of having a hot cup of coffee in the morning (or the afternoon), I find I'm much more inclined to have a cold drink instead. I know I shouldn't start my day with a caffeinated beverage, but I do have one every day, usually when I'm in the car. In an effort to give myself a good habit, I give myself the option of having a cold drink every morning, and I'm trying to make that extra effort an ongoing habit. Instead of a smoothie, I'll have a gingerale or peppermint tea. It's much better for me than having an extra helping of ice cream. The office is so far away from my home that I don't have time to bring my lunch with me. What's the best way to bring a healthy lunch to the office? Can I put a cooler in the trunk of my car? Can I have my lunch at a restaurant? Is it better to make my lunch at home? My husband and I are also trying to eat more locally-grown and organic foods. We make a goal of picking up our own groceries, a challenge that's more difficult for us than it was previously. We may have to expand our grocery list, but the effort to eat healthier and keep our money in our local economy makes the effort worth it. I love eggs. They're pretty much the food group that's dearest to my heart. My mom taught me how to make a simple, egg-y breakfast, and I've continued the tradition. I'll always have eggs for breakfast – maybe even for dinner, too! If I'm traveling or at a friend's home, I'll always make a few eggs to go with whatever is for dinner. Eggs can be eaten on their own or they can be used in many ways, from omelets to egg salad to eggs Benedict to frittatas to eggs in everything. One of my favorite ways to eat eggs is egg salad, which is something I've made in my own kitchen for years. I like to keep the eggs and veggies separate so I can
