What's new:

Hi all, I am a programmer who wants to make a B/X OpenRPG Android game. I really don't want to make a clone. I want to find a game similar to the world before Sentinel, where you can play DND. I will be looking for an engine similar to that of the 3D Roque RPG, but one that's compatible with java. I have a game plan. It will be worth my while to get started, but from what I can tell it will take a lot of work. So don't take the simple things for granted. I am willing to do a lot of work. Please help me out and don't copy, I will just prefer playing the original game if I want to RPG. Basically, I want to port over the game rules for DND and patch them up into an Android Game. I want to make and maintained an online dnd game using nixi or ktechlab. that would be my preference. The player knows the rules and a mod has potential impact on the game because its an online setup. I want to use the nixi or ktechlab dnd ruleset and convert it to android. In the future. I would like to check out a Java engine called jug and write my own RPG with it, but I want to start with dnd first. I love the properties of dnd Android and that it runs java. This is a whole other topic, but I think I messed my java preferences up somewhere. If someone wants to have a look at my java code, I post here.Q: Is there a Java equivalent to nldm? I have a C# program that looks for integers in an array as follows: for(int i = 0; i
